HOUSTON, Sep 8, 2011 (GlobeNewswire via COMTEX) -- With students back to school and the familiar sights and sounds of fall just around the corner, it won't be long until it's time to start decorating for the Halloween season. The National Retail Federation estimates that Americans will spend more than $5 billion on Halloween this year, including decorations, candy, costumes and parties, making the holiday one of America's most popular celebrations. From traditional jack-o-lanterns and scary skeletons, to elaborate haunted houses and flying witches, Halloween decor options can run the gamut from simple to spooktacular.

For Halloween enthusiasts looking for a new way to add flair to their home or business, ScreenItAgain.com, an online source for custom replacement screens and grilles, introduces its innovative holiday window screens. Consumers can choose from a jack o' lantern, ghost or haunted house image to be printed directly on an exterior window screen. Each screen is customized to fit exact window dimensions. Simply replace the existing window screen with the ScreenItAgain holiday screen to instantly dress up any house or office in the spirit of the season. And, because the image is only visible on the exterior, it doesn't block the view from the inside looking out.

"Our new holiday line combines all of the benefits of our standard window screens with a convenient, no-hassle decorating option to add a festive look to the outside of any building," said Andrea North, product marketing manager for Quanex Building Products. "Consumers can simply visit ScreenItAgain.com where they will find easy step-by-step instructions for measuring screen dimensions, choosing the holiday image and helpful installation tips."

The ScreenItAgain.com holiday screens are available in sizes ranging from 16" x 20" to 47" x 80" in height, with the image printed proportionately to the dimensions. Starting around $30, the holiday screens are an affordable way to decorate your windows for Halloween, with volume discounts applying when buying multiple screens. Each screen comes with a protective envelope for easy storage during the off-season. Orders typically ship in three to five business days.

ScreenItAgain.com also offers replacement window and door screens and grilles in a wide range of profiles, colors and styles. The easy-to-use online configurator helps consumers accurately replace aging or damaged window screens and grilles. For homeowners looking to improve the energy efficiency of their home, ScreenItAgain.com provides solar window screen options that can block up to 90 percent of the sun's heat.
